“The Commission or Commission staff may schedule a public ‘interested persons’ meeting to solicit comment from the public on any topic within the jurisdiction of the Commission, in advance of either a prenotice hearing, if any, or an adoption hearing on a proposed regulation. Announcement of this meeting shall be posted on the Commission website and mailed (either in tangible form or electronically) to every person who has filed a request to be included on the applicable mailing list and to such other persons or groups the Commission believes may be interested in the matter.”

Fair Political Practices Commission

We welcome your comments, ideas and feedback!

The Commission encourages input from the general public, other government agencies and the many thousands of individuals in our regulated community.

Our Interested Persons process guarantees opportunities for public input at the formative stages of rulemaking. But your point of view may not be heard unless you send us your comments or attend a meeting.

We also encourage public feedback and comment on other important FPPC activities, including our monthly Commission agenda items, development of forms and publications, and our web site content.

In a nutshell, we're striving to make it easier than ever for you to keep up with FPPC activities and the many opportunities to voice your view.

Interested Persons Meetings

In an informal setting, Commission staff outline the subject at hand and seek comments from the audience. Frank discussion is encouraged as we seek your input during the discussion of proposed regulations or other projects. Interested Persons meetings are most frequently held in the Commission hearing room at our Sacramento headquarters, 428 J Street, 8th floor, Sacramento. But if you can't attend, arrangements frequently can be made for conference call participation. Written and telephone comments also are encouraged. Be sure to regularly check our web site, or subscribe to our Interested Persons e-mail list, to ensure that you don't miss a topic of interest.

While we hope you will become involved, joining our e-mail distribution list or attending an Interested Persons meeting places you under no obligation to the Commission.

On our web site: www.fppc.ca.gov

A major page of our web site is dedicated to announcements of Interested Persons meetings and other opportunities for public comment. Go directly to: www.fppc.ca.gov/index.html?id=363, or access the page through the Commission link on the left side of our home page. Staff memoranda, draft publications and other associated materials are linked to the notices on the page. Upcoming Interested Persons opportunities are also frequently highlighted in the What's New section of our home page.

Subscribe to Our E-Mail Lists

Our new e-mail subscription system allows you to join our Interested Persons list, subscribe to the FPPC agenda, the FPPC Bulletin and other publications, and receive other announcements. Go directly to our Mailing Lists page at: www.fppc.ca.gov/index.html?id=408, or use the handy link to the page on the left side of our home page. Join the hundreds of individuals who already have subscribed! You may unsubscribe from the lists at any time.

Other Opportunities for Comment

Public comment on Commission agenda matters is also encouraged and should be submitted by mail, fax or hand delivery. Recommended deadlines for submitting comments on specific Commission meeting agenda items are listed at the bottom of each month's agenda. The monthly agenda is posted on our Current Agenda page 10 days prior to the meeting. The fax number for comment letters is 1-916-322-6440. Address comment letters to:

Fair Political Practices Commission
428 J Street, Suite 620
Sacramento, CA 95814

Other public comment opportunities are publicized via our e-mail lists, in our quarterly newsletter, and on our web site. Our web site also has a web feedback feature that allows you to send comments or questions directly to the FPPC's webmaster or information technology manager. Just click on the Feedback button found at the top of our web pages.
